Strengthening Chicago's Youth

February 2021

Letter from the Interim Executive Director

Greetings!

Today marks the first day of Black History Month, dedicated to celebrating and remembering the lives and history of Black Americans. The recent declaration of the former childhood home of Emmett Till honors the importance of Black history and the inauguration of Vice President Kamala Harris represents the accomplishments and achievements of Black Americans. But it must not be overlooked that honoring Black History and taking action for black lives should be at the forefront of our work throughout the year.

Sincerely,
Leslie Helmcamp

BLOG HIGHLIGHT Goodbye to SCY

This week's blog is written by SCY Program Coordinator Kate Spitzer-Cohn. Kate has been with Lurie Children's for 8 years and her hard work and contributions in support of Chicago's youth will be greatly missed.

Goodbyes are hard, and sitting down to write this blog has been hard. I'm nearing the end of my time with SCY, and while I am excited for what's next and grateful for all the things I've learned and awesome people I've met, change is hard. And change in the midst of COVID...well, that's an extra layer of hard.

ONLINE WORKSHOP OPPORTUNITY

The Interplay Between Environmental Exposures and Mental Health Outcomes

There is growing evidence that the environment can play an important role in mental health – yet research into the effects of environmental stressors rarely focuses on behavioral and mental health outcomes. This virtual workshop will bring together experts in mental health and environmental health research to explore emerging research on the relationships, harmful or beneficial, between environmental factors and mental health.

COVID-19

Lessons Learned by Leadership

From process and regulatory changes, to shifts in funding and care modalities, the pandemic has forced leaders and their teams to adapt and innovate. Although the end COVID-19 is not yet in sight, the past year has provided several lessons to consider as we enter 2021. Attend this panel-style webinar to hear healthcare executive leaders and Maria Samot, Senior Vice President of Content at Relias: reflect on critical aspects of the pandemic; discuss key learnings from 2020; and forecast challenges and opportunities ahead.

IMPROVE HEALTH EQUITY AMONG YOUR CLIENTS AND STAFF Join the New Collaborative

Historically marginalized communities continue to face disproportionate challenges around access to quality behavioral health care. How we prioritize access to care and type of treatment offered are often influenced by bias and impact quality of care. National Council is kicking off a six-month program called the Health Equity ECHO Learning Collaborative to engage with other health care provider organizations through didactic presentations on key issues and discussion around real cases to improve health equity within their organization.
