

Letter from the Executive Director

Greetings!

After an incredibly sad and violent two weeks in Chicago, and across the country, the violence over Memorial Day Weekend unfortunately continued. Showing support, accessing resources, and having tough conversations about the root causes of gun violence are important aspects of violence prevention. But we must mobilize our communities around a public health approach to violence prevention and do so by committing to seeking change on a regular basis. Everyone can get involved and take action to promote awareness of gun violence prevention efforts, including participating in Wear Orange Day (June 3–5), joining Team SCY in the Race Against Gun Violence (June 11) or reaching out to elected officials to ask them to support evidence-based solutions. No matter how big or small, each of these steps can help create safe communities for our children.

Sincerely,
Leslie Helmcamp
